

HILL VERY SAVAGE
ON THE DEMOCRATS.ARRAIGNS HIS PARTY FOR BREAKING PROMISES.

Strong Tariff Speech Made by the New York Man in the Senate This Morning—Vice President Stevenson, Who Was Ill Last Night, Is Much Better.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Vice President Stevenson was taken suddenly ill in Georgetown last night from the heat. He is better this morning.

In the senate today Senator Hill made a great tariff speech, scoring the democrats for not keeping their promises. It seems certain at last that sugar will be taxed. At the opening yesterday Mr. Aldrich demanded a separate vote upon the committee amendment striking sugar from the free list. The amendment was adopted—33 to 22. Quay, Irby, Allen and Kyle voted aye and Peffer no.

Later there was an exciting episode. Senator Allen of Nebraska moved to put all lumber on the free list. Senator Chandler charged that the Nebraska senator had made a bargain with the democratic side to obtain it, and said that in explaining his vote on the sugar schedule the announcement of Senator Allen that he had not yet made up his mind how to vote on the final bill was a threat, and by getting this amendment adopted he was completing a bargain.

Senator Allen retorted that his vote and actions were none of Mr. Chandler's business.

Senator Allen subsequently obtained the floor and replied to Senator Chandler's remarks. He claimed that he (Allen) was not to be deterred from his purpose by a senator who put himself in the attitude of a baboon on every possible occasion.

Peffer's amendment to strike salt from the free list and place it on the dutiable list at 5 cents per hundred pounds was lost—24 to 23.

The finance committee amendment, restricting free entry of raw silk to such as is not manufactured in any way, was agreed to.

The senate by a party vote decided to put logs and lumber, including dressed lumber, on the free list.

The free list was completed at 1:30. Senator Peffer addressed the senate briefly at the opening of the session in support of his resolution instructing the committee on post-offices and postroads to report back a postal savings bill. Senator Manderson said he had introduced a postal savings bill based on the English system, but he did not favor the paternalistic scheme of Senator Peffer, which contemplated making the government the banker of the people and the complete extinction of private financial institutions. No action was taken on the resolution.

A resolution offered by Senator Culom, instructing the commissioner of pensions to report to the senate what portion of the annual appropriations for pensions will remain unexpended at the end of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, was agreed to without objection.

Senator Sherman presented a joint resolution passed by the Ohio legislature relating to the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the victory of Gen. Anthony Wayne at Fallen Timber, Aug. 7, 1794, which marked the conquest of the Indian nation. It was appropriately referred.

The income tax went over till today by unanimous consent. Before this action Mr. Peffer gave notice of his intention to graduate the income tax so as to make incomes in excess of $1,000 and below $10,000 subject to a tax of 1 per cent; between $10,000 and $25,000, 2 per cent; between $25,000 and $50,000, 3 per cent; between $50,000 and $100,000, 4 per cent; above $100,000, 5 per cent. Adjourned.

The Russian Wheat Acreage.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Our consul-general at St. Petersburg, Mr. Crawford, reports that it is considered doubtful if any increase in the wheat acreage whatever may be expected in the next few years. In many instances the soil is said to be so much exhausted by overwork that it has been advised to rotate the wheat crop less frequently.

The Armor Plate Investigation.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—C. E. Sill's evidence of armor plate frauds was concluded before the investigating committee yesterday. Chairman Cummings expects to have Charles H. Craig, one of Sill's fellow-workmen at the Carnegie works, as the next witness. Sill and Craig are the two who made the original disclosures.

Goldzier Opposes Hatch's Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Congressman Goldzier delivered a long speech against the anti-optic bill yesterday, prior to which Mr. Hatch had made arrangements for a vote to be taken on the measure Friday. Mr. Goldzier argued that the bill was unconstitutional.

Convention to Promote Immigration.

NEW YORK, June 21.—A convention intended to promote immigration to the south and to establish closer commercial relations between New York and the southern states will be held at the Fifth Avenue hotel next week.

HIPPOLYTE'S STAR SETS.

His Ministers Resign, Business Paralyzed, and Bloodshed Feared.

NEW YORK, June 21.—According to advices from Hayti President Hippolyte's government is on the eve of dissolution. Five of the ministers have threatened to resign and the most influential governor in the north has refused to carry out instructions given him by the president. Business in Port au Prince and the principal towns is reported to be at a standstill and the poorer people are suffering from want. Quiet has to be maintained by force. The overthrow of Hippolyte may be looked for at any moment. Candidates for the presidency are numerous, and it is to the number of his rivals that Hippolyte owes his strength. There are at least six persons who have a following large enough to justify their hopes of becoming president. After Hippolyte's retirement will most likely come a period of continual struggle and bloodshed. A serious riot between native soldiers and policemen took place June 8. Several of the combatants are lying in the hospitals seriously wounded, while citizens in the upper part of the town are afraid to venture out into the streets at night.

FIRE AT WASHINGTON.

Eckington Hotel, the Home of Congressmen, Is Destroyed.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Congressmen and other guests of the Eckington hotel in the suburbs of this city were roused from their slumbers about midnight by the cry of fire and had to make a hasty exit to escape from the flames. The fire started in the kitchen and within two hours the building was practically a total loss. The hotel was built on the colonial style, the wings being modern structures, while the main building was formerly the Gale mansion, the country seat of one of the proprietors of the old National Intelligencer. The hotel, which was owned by District Commissioner Truesdell, was valued at $50,000 and was well insured. The lessee, W. A. McKellip, loses about $15,000 on furniture, with an insurance of only $3,000. Among the guests were Representatives Dunn of New York, Funk of Illinois, McCleary of Minnesota, Outwaite of Ohio and Wright of Nebraska, with their families.

OUTLAWS OUTWITTED.

Frustrated and Routed in an Attempt to Capture Cherokee Money.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., June 21.—Sunday night Jim Cook, his brother, and another person were laying in wait at the halfway house, between Tahlequah and Wagoner, to capture the Cherokee money in transit between Tahlequah and Wagoner, where it was being taken for the payment at Vinita. Some one notified the treasurer, and he sent a squad of the national guards ahead of the money. They surrounded the house, and in the fight that ensued one of the guards was killed and one of the bandits shot. The robbers escaped, but were followed and yesterday some of the deputies from the Muskogee court brought in Tom Cook. He is shot in both arms, through the body, and through the legs, and is, in addition, peppered all over with buckshot. He says he and the others had been to Tahlequah to draw their money and were attacked before they were aware. They belong to the famous gang of outlaws who have been terrifying the western portion of this nation for years.

Serious Situation in Oklahoma.

WICHITA, Kan., June 21.—The situation at Round Point, Okla., growing out of the complications between the Rock Island railway and the city is reported to be serious and an outbreak is anticipated. Gov. Renfrow especially commissioned Deputy Marshal Madsen to investigate and he has reported that in his opinion United States troops will be needed to prevent a serious outbreak which will undoubtedly result in bloodshed and damage to property.

Mountains Move Down on the Track.

OMAHA, Neb., June 21.—Rumors at the Union Pacific headquarters are to the effect that the glacial action has in places moved the mountains down on the narrow right of way along the Columbia, where the cliff rises often 400 feet above the track, leaving now hardly a footing for the track. When the water subsides it is feared this will reveal damages which will require $1,500,000 to repair.

Fatal Shooting at Fulton, Ark.

FULTON, Ark., June 21.—Gus Simmons, a negro desperado, has shot two other negroes, Calvin McCormick and Sam Stewart, killing the latter and mortally wounding the former. Simmons was passing near a house in which McCormick and Stewart were, and being hailed by them thought it was for the purpose of arrest and immediately commenced shooting.

Sealers Leave Behring Sea.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., June 21.—The sealing schooner G. H. White returned from the Alaska coast with her firearms and ammunition sealed in the original packages. She reports that the American sealers which have been warned will return forthwith in compliance with orders issued by the Behring sea patrol fleet.

Report of the Loss of the Unga Verified.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 21.—The loss of the sealing schooner Unga, one of the seven vessels reported missing two weeks ago, has been confirmed. The Unga was over returned.

FIRE AIDS THE WIND
IN RAZING LINCOLN.A CONFLAGRATION FOLLOWS
LAST NIGHT'S CYCLONE.

Big Gale Strikes Omaha and the West—Trees Levelled and Buildings Unroofed—Two Persons Were Killed Near Bangor, S. D., by a Cyclone—Damage in the West.

OMAHA, June 21.—Rumor has it that a fierce fire followed the storm in Lincoln and that the loss of life and property was large. The report cannot be confirmed as all wires are down. Between 6:30 and 7 o'clock last evening Omaha was swept by one of the strongest storms experienced in years. The wind came from the south, and blew in gusts, attaining at times a velocity of nearly forty miles an hour, and accompanied by dense clouds of dust that obscured the sky until all was dark as midnight. Not a great deal of rain accompanied the storm, but quite a shower fell after it. Much damage of a minor nature was done. Shade trees and shrubbery were blown down and in some places traffic was blocked by trees falling across the street. At Jefferson square, near the center of the city, nearly every tree was blown down. A part of the roof of the Woodman lined oil works was blown off and the Murray hotel was partially unroofed. The glass roof of the Bee building was damaged. All the fences and some of the buildings at the Omaha driving park were leveled.

At Courtland Beach a man was caught in a boat on the lake and drowned. At the Ames avenue street car house one of the electric wires was blown into a tree and Foreman Parish climbed up to disentangle it. He received a fatal shock from the wire.

At Lincoln, Neb., the storm was similar to the one in Omaha, only a severe gale with no serious damage and no loss of life, as far as could be learned. Passengers coming in on the Burlington train which passed through the storm report that damage in the country was but slight. From all directions word comes of high wind and light rain. It seems to have been merely a squall at the close of an unusually hot and sultry day.

DAMAGE CAUSED BY BIG STORMS.

Towns West and Northwest Suffer by an Elemental Disturbance.

SIoux CITY, Iowa, June 21.—A terrible storm of wind, rain and hail struck this city at 6 o'clock yesterday. The roof of the Illinois Central station was carried over the Union depot and dropped into Third street. The Peavey & Stevens wholesale furniture house was unroofed and the Gettysburg Cyclorama wrecked. It is believed immense damage was done in the surrounding country.

The stock in lumber yards was gathered up and sent whirling through the streets like so many straws, crashing in window glass and doing great damage. A large part of the Cable Street railway company's power house was unroofed and the brick walls badly damaged. The big tank that supplies water at the Union stock yards was wrecked. Reports show much damage to farm buildings. Great damage was done to buildings in South Sioux City and Dakota City, Neb.

It is reported that the little towns of Tara, Clare, Moorland and Callendar, 100 miles east on the Rock Island, were in the path of the cyclone; that great damage was done and that there were four fatalities.

ATCHISON, Kan., June 21.—The Santa Fe railroad has abandoned its tracks between here and St. Joseph on account of the encroachments of the river. The company used the Rock Island track for a trip and then decided that the Rock Island was also unsafe.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, June 21.—A terrific windstorm struck this city at 6:30 o'clock last evening, demolishing shade trees and signs and lifting roofs. At Lake Manawa an old pavilion was demolished. Three girls were in the pavilion immediately before the storm struck and it is feared that they perished.

BANGOR, S. D., June 21.—A severe cyclone struck northeast of this place yesterday, demolishing fourteen houses and killing the little child of John Samfelt. A man named John Long was also killed.

PIERRE, S. D., June 21.—A whirlwind almost amounting to a cyclone passed over the city last night, doing great damage to numerous frame buildings.

Dozen Houses Struck by Lightning.

BRAZIL, Ind., June 21.—One of the severest electrical storms in the history of the country passed over this city last evening. No less than a dozen houses were struck by lightning, while the display of electricity was wonderful.

KENTLAND, Ind., June 21.—One of the heaviest hail and rain storms that was ever witnessed in this county fell here yesterday, cutting whole fields of corn and oats to the ground. The damage will amount to thousands of dollars.

Cloudburst at Brookville, Ind.

BROOKVILLE, Ind., June 21.—There was a cloudburst at 3:30 yesterday afternoon and the downpour of rain was the heaviest ever known here. The fall lasted for two hours. The damage to property will reach $25,000.

E. J. STEVENS GETS THE BRODER BOOKS.HANDSOME PRESENT TO A
JANESVILLE GRADUATE.

Broder Sisters Give Him the Valuable Collection of Law Volumes Gathered by Their Brother Paul—End of the Commencement Exercises This Afternoon.

BELOIT, June 21.—A handsome present to a Janesville boy marked commencement day. On the occasion of the graduation of the class this morning the Misses Catherine and Alice Broder presented to Edward J. Stevens of Janesville the extensive and valuable law library of their deceased brother, the Hon. Paul Broder. It is considered one of the most complete in Southern Wisconsin. Mr. Stevens' oration was on the theme "An American Triumvirate," and Malcolm O. Mout, the other Janesville graduate, delivered an oration on "The Reformer."

At noon a commencement dinner was served at Chapin hall.

The commencement exercises closed this afternoon with the dedication of the Logan Museum of Antiquities and an address by Dr. F. W. Gunsaulus, of Chicago.

GOGBIC IRON MINERS STRIKE.

Two Thousand Men Quit Work—Increase of Wages Demanded.

IRONWOOD, Mich., June 21.—Two thousand Gogebic range miners, comprising all the forces at the Norrie, Aurora, Pabst, Newport and East Norrie mines, went out on strike yesterday. The unionists assembled early and marched to the mines and persuaded the non-union men to quit work. The steam shovels loading from stock piles all suspended operations before noon. The Colby at Bessemer is still running with a full force, but efforts will be made to induce the men to join the strike to-day. The mines on the Wisconsin end of the range are all working with nearly full forces. The companies declare that the mines will remain closed until men can be procured to go to work at the old wages.

The number of men now out at the various mines is as follows: Norrie, 850; East Norrie, 500; Pabst, 250; Newport, 175; Aurora, 350. Work has also been suspended at the steam shovels. The strike enforces the idleness of 150 railroad men, 200 ore trimmers and 175 dock men at Ashland. Many vessels now on their way to Ashland from Cleveland, Chicago and Milwaukee will be unable to obtain ore. The strikers have been greatly encouraged to-day by reports that the men at nearly all of the mines on the Marquette and Menominee ranges will strike in the course of a few days.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 21.—Officials of the iron mining companies have advised that the strike of the iron miners in the Gogebic range is most likely to spread to the Marquette range. So strong has become the fear of a general strike that no new charters for iron ore carriers are being made and several charters already made will be canceled.

MINERS INDICTED AT OTTAWA.

Grand Jury Holds All Engaged in the Outbreaks—Mines Still Shut Down.

OTTAWA, Ill., June 21.—The grand jury, which was in session here for ten days, has completed its work and returned the largest number of indictments ever before rendered in this county. The striking miners that led the riot at LaSalle were indicted, as were those who burned Scott's mine at Kangley and those who stoned the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe train at Streator.

MASCOUTAH, Ill., June 21.—Two coal mines in this district, Enterprise and Turkey Hill, have started. The other mines remain idle, the operators declining to sign the Springfield scale.

DECATUR, Ill., June 21.—The coal famine in Decatur has been broken by the receipt of fuel from outside points. It comes a little high, $3.50 a ton, but is eagerly taken. Union miners still refuse to ask for work as individuals and the coal company's hands are tied. Sheriff Perl proposed to give the company ample protection in case the company desired to put new men at work, but Superintendent Armstrong did not make any request.

MINONK, Ill., June 21.—It has developed here that the miners held a secret meeting yesterday, the entire object of which is not known. Delegates were appointed to a district meeting to be held at Streator Thursday. All is quiet.

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., June 21.—The miners yesterday presented their scale of prices, which was rejected by the company, the officials saying they would treat with the men as individuals. The miners held a meeting and adopted resolutions demanding a check weighman; that there be no discrimination toward the men previously employed; that the difficulties be settled by arbitration, they choosing Lieut.-Gov. Joseph B. Gill as their representative.

BRAZIL MEN WILL GO TO WORK.

They Resolve to Accept the Columbus Scale With One Change.

BRAZIL, Ind., June 21.—Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock a mass meeting of miners numbering over 2,000 strikers was held in a grove just north of the city to decide upon accepting the Columbus scale. After spending some time in debate, it was decided to accept the Columbus scale, providing the operators would pay five cents a ton extra for mining coal under three feet and one inch, and over two feet and a half, the same provisions as was made in last year's scale. A committee of miners was selected to meet the block coal operators in the afternoon. The session only lasted a short time, as the operators conceded the miners' demands. The men, it is understood, will return to work at once and today all the mines in the county will be in operation.

SULLIVAN, Ind., June 21.—Camp McKee is still located in the northeast suburb of town. Four companies are stationed here, and the militia is having a good time. No trouble is reported from the mining districts. A majority of the miners are still out, but the general opinion is that the backbone of the strike is broken. The mines at Hymers will probably remain shut down until fall. The latest report is that the militia will leave here Saturday. There will be no special term of court to try the strikers, as are out on bail.

Ohio Miners Will Go to Work.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 21.—The Adams convention yesterday decided to go to work. The executive session was a stormy one and many unpleasant things were said about the national and state officers. Charges were freely made that the national officers had sold the miners out, and on the other hand it was asserted that Adams was alone to blame for the row on account of the unjustifiable action he had taken.

MASSILLON, Ohio, June 21.—The Fifth regiment leaves to-day, leaving the Ohio mining regions entirely without military protection. The United States marshals are still here and will remain until the possibility of a new outbreak is certainly removed. The Wheeling and Lake Erie mines are now producing 100 cars of coal daily.

John McBride reached home last night willing to rest and satisfied with the outlook. He said: "Work is being resumed all along the line. Our organization comes out of the fight in good order and we have succeeded in greatly improving relative prices."

Maltreat Striking Miners.

FORT SMITH, Ark., June 21.—Details of a horrible state of affairs existing in the mining region of the Indian Territory have been brought to this city by evicted miners. Many of the men were thrown bodily from their homes, their wives and children beaten and bruised, and their furniture and personal effects destroyed, after which they were loaded into box cars and shipped out of the Territory. Most of the miners and families were thrown out early in the morning in a driving rain and no time given them to dress or eat. The wife of the evicted miner at Anderson, who was struck over the head with a rifle, is in a critical condition.

Huns at Walston Ready to Fight.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., June 21.—The attitude of the Huns at Walston is growing more alarming. Yesterday they were in town buying firearms, cartridges, and other ammunition, and have purchased all the marbles they could find with which to load their cannon. Fears are entertained that when the guards arrive there will be one of the bloodiest battles ever fought the coal regions.

For Burning a Bridge.

BEVERLY, Mo., June 21.—J. R. Poor and Robert Johnson were arrested here yesterday, charged with burning the Hannibal & St. Joseph Railroad bridge across the Chariton river on the night of June 11. They are also suspected of being the leaders in the midnight attacks recently made on the local mines, which resulted in much destruction of property by fire.

The Gold Reserve.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The gold reserve, after deducting the $2,250,000 engaged for shipment to-day, is $64,703,047, or $745,330 lower than ever before in its history. That there is no lack of gold in the country is shown by the last national bank statement, which shows that May 4, 1894, the national banks of the United States held specie to the amount of $259,941,923, of which over $204,000,000 was in gold coin and gold certificates. The treasury receipts so far this month aggregate $286,877,632 and expenditures $361,151,337, leaving a deficit for the year up to this time of $74,273,705.

DAILY NEWS RECORD
FROM OTHER LANDS.CIVIL MARRIAGE BILL PASSED
IN BUDA-PESTH.

Editor Stepheny Sentenced to Pay a Fine of Five Thousand Marks for Libelling Baron Von Sondine—Loss From the Austrian Floods Amounts to 60,000,000 Florins.

BUDA PESTH, June 21.—The house of magnates passed the civil marriage bill by a majority of four.

BERLIN, June 21.—Editor Stepheny was today sentenced to pay a fine of five thousand marks or serve six weeks in jail for libelling Baron Von Sondine.

VIENNA, June 21.—The damage by the floods in Hungary will amount to at least 60,000,000 florins. Many of the largest estates in the kingdom have been devastated and thousands of houses destroyed.

FOR ESTEE AND SILVER.

Both Popular in California—Woman Suffrage Favored.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 21.—Morris M. Estee of Napa was nominated for governor yesterday by the state republican convention. The platform adopted indorses the national platform of 1892 and again indorses the McKinley law. The silver plank is as follows:

"We favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and the making of silver as well as gold legal tender in payment of all debts, both public and private, and we pledge our congressional nominees to support the principles contained in this resolution."

The immigration plank is sweeping. It demands the enactment and strict enforcement of such laws as will absolutely and effectually prohibit immigration of all foreign laborers, both skilled and unskilled, into this country. The woman suffrage plank is as follows:

"Believing that taxation without representation is against the true principles of government we favor the extension of the right of suffrage to all citizens of the United States, both men and women."

IOWA C. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

George A. Newman of Cedar Falls Elected Commander.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, June 21.—Yesterday was the second day of the twentieth annual encampment of the department of Iowa Grand Army of the Republic, and it brought an immense crowd of people. The first business of the encampment was transacted in the afternoon. The report of the adjutant showed a total membership in the state of Iowa of 17,659 on Dec. 31, a decrease of 2,300. The death losses were 236, an increase of 38 over the preceding year. The financial reports showed the receipts to be $9,534.79 and expenditures $7,493.41; balance on hand, $2,041.38.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Commander, George A. Newman, Cedar Falls; senior vice-commander, J. C. Milliman, Logan; junior vice-commander, Mr. Ellis, Villisca; medical director, Dr. E. H. Hazen, Des Moines; chaplain, B. F. W. Cozier, Colfax. Clinton was selected as the next place of meeting.

BY THE REGULAR JURY.

Special Verdict in the Prendergast Case Is Refused.

CHICAGO, June 21.—Proceedings in the trial which is to determine the sanity or insanity of Assasin Patrick Eugene Joseph Prendergast began before Judge Payne in the Criminal court building on the north side. The present trial is held in the court room directly under the chamber in which the trial for murder was held. The room was filled with curious people fully half an hour before the judge came in. Some little time before that important event, however, two big ball-bats made the rounds of the benches and cleared out of them all but the men who had been called for jury service. It will take two days to secure a jury.

Coxeyites Cause Trouble.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 21.—United States Marshal Bede received word from Staples, Minn., that a band of Coxeyites are causing trouble at that place stoning trains, firing shots through cars and otherwise rioting. They threaten to seize a train and come through to St. Paul. Twenty-four deputies under Marshal Shorthall were sent to the scene.

Fifty Men Caught in a Burning Mine.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 21.—Fire broke out in the Mary Lee coal mine, ten miles from here, yesterday, cutting off fifty men from escape who were working in the rear part of the mine. Four of the number were taken out dead. With the exception of these four it is thought the rest escaped.

Refused a Passport.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—O'Donovan Rossa sailed for Europe without a passport. This fact transpired to-day. He had formally applied for one, but was refused because his papers showed that he was naturalized in 1871 after less than one month's bona fide residence in the United States.

Archbishop Tache Slightly Improved.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 21.—The condition of Archbishop Tache is slightly improved, but death may occur at any time.

HIGH SCHOOL PLANS BEFORE THE BOARD.

BUILDING TO ACCOMMODATE 400 PUPILS.

Two Stories Besides Basement and Attic—The Cost of the Structure To Be Not Over $40,000, Leaving an Ample Sum for Furnishings and Fixtures.

Janesville's high school building will be a model one if the commissioners do not run short of funds. It will have two floors besides the basement and attic, virtually a four-story building, with a capacity to comfortably accommodate four hundred pupils.

There will be two exits—one on the north, or Dodge street end, and one on High, or the east side front. Hallways fourteen feet wide will furnish passage ways to the several rooms and departments of the school. There will be two staircases leading to the upper floors and to the basement. Rooms will be provided in the building for recitations, and the different science classes and laboratory, rooms for the board of education and clerk, superintendent's office, etc.

The plans were pretty thoroughly discussed by the commissioners last evening, and general details were outlined as above, the matter of securing plans in accordance therewith being left with a special committee consisting of McLean, Anderson and Clemmons.

The idea was generally expressed that the cost of site and building, not including the heating apparatus and furnishings, should not exceed $40,000, which would leave $15,000 besides the premium on the bond, for heating apparatus and the furnishings.

A. W. Cole, a Chicago architect, was present at the board meeting to offer his services in preparing plans, but no action other than the appointment of the committee, was taken. The committee has not yet held a meeting on the subject, but will meet in a day or two and submit propositions to the different architects who desire to draw plans for the new building.

No action was taken in relation to purchasing a site for the building.

"We did not have the funds to pay for the site," said one of the commissioners this morning. "Having no money at our disposal, we thought it better to postpone all matters pertaining to a site until the bonds are sold." The Halverson property, so called, fronting on Dodge, High and Pleasant streets, being the east half of the block south of the Lincoln school, is offered for $6,100 by the owners.

FAST IN THE BONDS OF LOVE

Buck-Thompson.

The wedding of Miss Ida Thompson to Frank Buck occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Thompson, 163 Cornelia street, last evening. Many relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. E. H. Pence, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Flowers beautified the parlors and garlanded the tables on which the wedding supper was served by Shurtleff. One room was devoted to the presents received by the bride, the tokens of remembrance being very handsome.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck left for Madison at 9:30. To-day they will take the Northern Pacific flyer at Waukesha and start on a trip to the Pacific coast. Mr. Buck, who is an old Janesville boy, is now connected with the Northern Pacific Express Company in Chicago, and Chicago will be the home of the happy couple.

TROOPS MARCH TO CAMP DOUGLAS

Route of the Regular Army Detail Doesn't Lie Through Janesville.

Janesville will not see the boys in blue on their way from Fort Sheridan to Camp Douglas. They pass within a few miles but camp at Whitewater. Lieutenant B. H. Dally, of the First Light battery, has recommended to the regular army troops that will go into camp with the Wisconsin National guard the following march route from Fort Sheridan to Camp Douglas: To Richmond, Ill., thence to Lake Geneva to Whitewater, to Fort Atkinson to Lake Mills, to Waterloo, to Columbus, to Portage, to Kilbourn, to Mauston and to Camp Douglas.

NO POSTAL NOTES AFTER JUNE 30

Issue of Those Unhandy Concerns Will End with This Month.

The issue of postal notes will cease on Saturday, June 30. Postal notes issued after that date will not be paid, but if issued on or before June 30 will be paid as usual. The new form of money orders will be used at the Janesville postoffice after July 1, and the fees will be considerably reduced. For instance, an order for $2.50 or less will cost three cents and one for $5 or less, but exceeding $2.50, five cents.

E. O. Kimberly Speaks for Others.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—Will you kindly correct the inference that I expect to sing on the Fourth of July. Have never entertained such a thought. What I have said in the matter will, I am sure be considered by all our singers, as in their interest, to-wit: That at the time in question, more especially, singers are entitled to some pay. Respectfully,

E. O. KIMBERLY.

Excursion to Cleveland, Ohio.

MANY AFTER THE SCHOOL BONDS.

Seven Here From the East to Get the $55,000 Issue

There were seven men from eastern cities in waiting at the mayor's office yesterday anxious to secure the high school bond issue. Besides this all the local banks are watching, with expectations that they might secure a portion of the bonds, if not the whole block.

"We cannot compete with the eastern brokers in bidding up a premium on the bonds," said a local bank official. "We can pay something of a premium, holding some ourselves and allowing Janesville people to invest in small amounts. But the eastern brokers bid up the premium for the reason that they handle millions of dollars in such securities, and easily find capital ready to invest on very low interest. We cannot do it here."

The local banker expressed the opinion that the bonds could be negotiated at a premium that would reduce the interest to four percent or less.

A Brittany Custom.

The peasants of Brittany have some strange customs, and one of them is of quite ancient origin. Many years ago their coast was visited by pirates, who invaded the houses and carried off all the money and valuables they could find. In order to protect themselves in the future, the people had an odd kind of a bedstead made which looks exactly like a cupboard with shelves and a door. On the lower shelf slept the master of the house and his wife while the children of the household were distributed on the upper shelves. A small opening like the port hole on a steamship was made against each shelf, and covered with a wire sieve which admitted the air. At bed time the family crept into their respective places, taking their treasures with them, and locking the door, slept with a feeling of perfect security. Many of these curious articles of furniture are still to be found in the old houses of Brittany, and are highly prized by curiosity seekers.

Trophies of Imperial Fetterling.

A collection of seventy-four pairs of antlers belonging to the German emperor has been placed in the arsenal at Berlin. These trophies were gained by the emperor during a few days this year and last, in the woods of Buckeberg and other places. The hunt at Buckeberg was very successful. The strength, endurance and accuracy of aim of the emperor, which enabled him to kill so many stags in a comparatively short time, have been described as admirable by a Berlin correspondent. The antlers from those of eight to one of sixteen points, are displayed on tablets covered with green cloth, and are a pleasant sight to sportsmen.—London News.

DELEGATES HOME FROM MILWAUKEE.

DIVISION OF THIS DIOCESE IS PROPOSED.

Rev. A. H. Barrington a Member of the Committee on That Subject—John Thoroughgood To Act on the Project of an Episcopal Residence—Prospects Are Good.

Rev. A. Barrington, Rev. W. H. Wotton, William Rager, J. C. Fox and Harry Ranous, who have been in Milwaukee attending the diocesan convention of the Episcopal church, returned home last evening. John Thoroughgood was appointed a member of the committee on the proposed Episcopal residence and Rev. Mr. Barrington was made a member of the committee on the division of the diocese. Under the most acceptable plan for dividing the Milwaukee diocese, La Crosse would probably be made the Episcopal city and the new diocese would be composed of the counties of La Crosse, Monroe, Juneau, Jackson, Trempealeau, Buffalo, Eau Claire, Pepin, Pierce, St. Croix, Dunn, Chippewa, Barron, Polk, Burnett, Washburn, Sawyer, Bayfield and Douglas.

This would leave in the Milwaukee diocese the counties of Kenosha, Racine, Milwaukee, Ozaukee, Washington, Waukesha, Milwaukee, Walworth, Rock, Jefferson, Dodge (excepting the city of Waupun) Columbia, Dane, Green, Lafayette, Iowa, Sauk, Vernon, Richland, Crawford and Grant.

Hospital and Church Hall.

The committee on the state of the church, through the Rev. Mr. Mallory, made a lengthy report, in which the clergy and laity were congratulated on the progress made, but the fact that the church offerings had not kept pace with the wealth of the state was deplored. It recommended the appointment of a committee of three to establish a diocesan library in Milwaukee; a committee of five to devise plans for building an Episcopal hospital in Milwaukee; a committee of three to build a church hall at the State university in Madison for the accommodation of Episcopal students at the university; a committee of five to take hold of the matter of an Episcopal residence in Milwaukee, all the committees to report at the next council.

The council amended the proposition for a committee on the hall at the state university to an endorsement of such a plan. The plan is to replace denominational schools around the state by denominational halls at the big Madison university.

GUY RADFORD'S RICH BRIDE

Young Man Well Known Here Marries a Millionaire's Adopted Daughter.

Miss Jessie A. McMillen, formerly Mrs. Clayton Quaw, was married at her home in Oshkosh Tuesday morning to Guy Berton Radford. The Rev. A. J. Benjamin performed the ceremony. The bride is an adopted daughter of Robert McMillen, the millionaire lumberman of Oshkosh. She was divorced from Clayton Quaw some two years ago and resumed her maiden name. Mr. Radford is a Milwaukee man and is well known in Janesville. He was for some time the Wisconsin agent of the Smith Premier Typewriter company. Not long ago he, too, figured in a divorce suit. It is stated that he is now in the insurance business at Kansas City. He and his bride, however, will take up their residence at Madison, this state, after a southern wedding trip.

GOV. PECK WILL NOT OBJECT

Says Hartley Clifford Can Keep a Saloon If He Chooses

With reference to the report that complaint would be made to Governor Peck that Hartley Clifford had violated the conditions of his pardon if he should open a roadhouse, the governor said that he had heard nothing further than the newspaper talk, and added that the conditions of the pardon were that Clifford should himself refrain from the use of intoxicants and from gambling, and that these would not restrain him from owning or running a saloon. Governor Peck said it seemed to be the case that men like Clifford released from prison found it impossible to make a living outside of the saloon business.

Buy Your Lot and Get a Free Ride.

Tomorrow night the great excursion to Columbia will take place via the Chicago & Northwestern Railway. The special excursion train will leave here at 11 p. m. arriving there Saturday morning. A grand time is anticipated. Over 100 people have already agreed to go, and inquiries are coming in thick and fast. It will be one of the largest excursions that ever left Janesville. The object of the excursion is to prove to all that Columbia is one of the most desirable towns in the state in which to locate, and that land in Clark county, Wis., is all that it is claimed to be. All those desiring to go must make arrangements on or before six o'clock this evening in order that suitable traveling accommodations may be secured.

COLUMBIA IMPROVEMENT CO.

Janesville, Wis.

A VENERABLE TORTOISE.

It Lived in Colombo and Was Probably Two Hundred Years Old.

There are very few of the thousands of passengers who annually pass through Colombo on their way to or from the Australian colonies or the far east who have failed to see the well-known tortoise at "Up-lands." These will hear with regret that the venerable reptile which has spent some one hundred and fifty years of its life in that healthy spot has at last breathed its last as a protest against its removal inland. Its actual age was probably 200 years. It measured six feet from snout to tail and its shell measured four feet six inches. Its probable name is testudo elephantopis, though some erroneously speak of it as testudo indicus, another large variety. The original home of the species was the Seychelle and Mauritius groups of islands, but sailing vessels found them very convenient as a reserve of live fresh meat in the event of scurvy breaking out, and as a result they have been at last restricted to one island—Aldabra island, to the north of Madagascar. Even here they are almost extinct, and would have been so long since had not Lord Stanmore, then Sir A. Gordon, made it worth the natives' while to preserve them by demanding, in his capacity of governor of Mauritius, an annual tribute of two specimens.

The tradition with respect to the Colombo tortoise is that it was sent to Ceylon from Java, as a present to the governor, who in those days was a Dutchman. Whether that be so or no, it is certain that the creature was quite at home in 1706, when the Dutch rule was replaced by our own. Through all the events which have occurred since those days the reptile has maintained its quiet existence, excepting for a struggle it is said to have successfully maintained against no less than seven men who endeavored to remove it to the grounds where an exhibition was being held, and for such little excitement as might have been occasioned from time to time by the carrying of half a dozen delighted children on its back. Recently, however, the local government acquired Uplands as a site for a graving dock, and claimed the tortoise—for which Dr. Gunther of the British museum, is said to have unsuccessfully offered £10 some years ago—as part of its bargain. As soon as the work was begun the creature was moved to the Victoria park about a mile inland, where it sickened and died in less than a month. Mr. Hailey, the director of the local museum, immediately inquired of the governor whether it was to be preserved and kept in Colombo or sent to the British museum, which is said to have a claim upon it. The decision has been to retain it in the island, and the shell has accordingly been stuffed and added to the attractions of the museum in Colombo.

A. J. M'CLAFFERTY DIES OF "WALKING TYPHOID."

The Well Known Milton Junction Druggist Passed Away Last Night After Brief Illness, His Malady Being One With Which Doctors Could Not Cope.

A. J. McClafferty, the well known Milton Junction druggist died last night of a peculiar ailment. It was pronounced by physicians a clear case of "walking typhoid fever." The patient seemed to be possessed with the idea that he must get up and go, and did so sometimes in spite of the attendants. He even got so far as his store once when the disease was at its height. In his last hours he could not be restrained and rushed about his room until sedatives were administered. Dr. Maxon was the attending physician.

Mr. McClafferty was a druggist and had been in business in Milton Junction for ten years. He had been a partner of Calvin Hull for the last two years.

Senator Quay talks like a man who has a steel saw and a bunch of skeleton keys in his pocket.

There is a rumor that the third-term sentiment in the Wisconsin democracy is confined to the A. P. A. wing of the party.

In calling Mayor Hopkins to testify

as to the gambling in Chicago it is not quite plain whether that grand jury is trying to get at the facts or the "rake off."

We shall not be surprised if the democrats in the senate do pass the tariff bill at an early day. It is undoubtedly about as bad as they can hope to make it.

Society must be nearly ready for Utopian conditions when there are two hundred and sixteen graduates at the state university and only eighty two of them are lawyers.

The attention of Governor Peck is called to the interesting, important and highly gratifying fact that the output of the university this year shows a larger relative increase than does the output of any brewery in the state.

Speaking of those senators who pretend that they voted with the sugar trust and for the collars and cuffs monopoly in order to maintain the democratic majority in the senate for any tariff bill, what would be thought of any army which should surrender its position in order to keep a handful of traitors in the commissary department?—Madison Journal.

One of the amusements of a summer resort in the mountains of Vermont is gold mining. A little stream in the region carries down a considerable amount of gold, and it is the habit of summer visitors to carry shallow pans to the stream's bed, fill them with earth, and patiently go through the hand washing process of old California days. The gold is found along with magnetic sand at the bottom of the pan, and visitors display with pride perhaps ten cents' worth of gold as the result of half an hour's labor.

HARPER'S HISTORY OF THE WAR

Harper's Pictorial History is universally recognized as the best history of the war yet published. This superb work has never been sold for less than $16 to $30. It has been sold only by subscription and but a very few men have been able to buy it.

The pages are the same size as Harper's Weekly and the work contains all the illustrations appearing in that great paper during the war. The work was edited by Richard Grant White and Henry M. Alden and is authentic, complete and reliable.

We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish Gazette subscribers with this splendid history of twenty-six parts at ten cents a part. These twenty-six parts will contain over one thousand war pictures and will make two handsome volumes when bound.

Many official documents of priceless historic value are quoted in full in the copious foot notes, such for instance as Lincoln's inauguration speeches, articles of federation of the early states, constitution of the United States, ordinance of secession, and many important papers, speeches, etc. The war story is consecutive and very fascinating. The introductory chapters, leading up to the struggle, and the chapter on the reconstruction period, are by some of the first writers of the age.

MATHER.

GOOD MEN FROM NEW YORK.

New York republicans will make a strong bid for the presidency in '96. To be successful they must present a man of preeminent qualifications. The men from that state who seem now to be the most promising aspirants for national preferment are Benjamin F. Tracy, Joseph H. Choate and Levi P. Morton, although the latter is handicapped by age. As secretary of the navy in the Harrison administration, Tracy made a fair record, while Morton, as vice president in the same period, gave satisfaction to the country. Both have ability and standing and are large enough for any office at the disposal of the people. Choate is not so well known as either of those in the country at large, but he is bigger than either intellectually. Chauncey M. Depew has been heard of by more persons than any other New York republican, but Chauncey, despite his personal popularity in his own section, and his ability and worth, is excluded from the presidential candidacy by the antagonism of an element which no national convention can altogether afford to disregard.

PUPILS OF MR. CLEVELAND.

The point of vital importance in the matter of the coal-miners' strike is the fact that most of the mischief has been done by men who are not citizens of the United States, and who have no respect for our laws and institutions, or even an intelligent conception of their meaning and purposes. Their idea of liberty is the right to destroy property and to take life for the promotion of their personal interests or the gratification of their private grudges against their employers. This is the element by which strikes are inaugurated and maintained. It is composed mainly of ignorant and turbulent Poles, Russians and Hungarians, with a comparatively small contingent of native or naturalized citizens. They are not voters, they own no property, they count for nothing as a part of society. Their presence is a constant menace to the public peace and welfare.

NOT A WEIGHTY OPINION

Secretary Morton's explanation that the protective tariff has ruined farmers would get more attention if the secretary of agriculture were not chiefly known to the country by the fact that he has been oftener burned in effigy than any other member of the cabinet. He officially represents the interests of the farmers, and has practically done so in such a way as to elicit from that class of citizens a succession of resolutions asking for his resignation or removal.

Most of the strikes are settled but there is little chance of business improving until democrats get through tinkering the tariff.

Here in Wisconsin the democratic campaign will be a defensive one, but it will be an offensive one too, if the odor of the administration record is any criterion.

Gallery of Players.

When the first number of the "Gallery of Players," issued by the Illustrated American; Nos. 5 and 7 East Sixteenth Street, New York City, appeared, many were surprised that such a magnificent album of stage favorites could be put on the market for twenty-five cents. But the second number is even better than the first. It contains twenty-two full-page pictures and over one hundred portraits in character of such well-known actors and actresses as Herbert Keely, Julia Arthur, N. C. Goodwin, Eleonora Duse, Marie Wainwright, and Julia Marlowe. The critical text is the work of Mr. Charles Fredric Nirdlinger.

Ehrlinger-Stimm.

Rev. George Kaempfein performed the ceremony last evening that made Miss Augusta Stimm Mrs. George Ehrlinger. The wedding occurred at the St. John's Lutheran church at 8 o'clock, Miss Ida Stimm being bridesmaid and Michael Ehrlinger best man. After the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Johanna Stimm, 216 North Franklin street. Mr. and Mrs. Ehrlinger left this morning for White-water, their future home. The groom, who lived in Janesville for years is in charge of the carriage blacksmithing in a Whitewater shop.

Unfolded.

COL. R. Y. HARDIN, one of the leading turf writers of the United States is in Janesville writing syndicate horse letters for twenty of the leading papers in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and other large cities. Col. Hardin also furnishes eight papers with telegraphic reports of races on his circuit which began in Baltimore May 15 and will end in Nashville, Tenn., October 25, including the meets at Philadelphia, Freeport, Janesville, Milwaukee, Lexington, Saginaw, Cleveland, Buffalo, Terre Haute, Chicago, Fort Wayne, Indianapolis and Tiffin, Columbus and Chillicothe, Ohio.

ROBERT L. DICKY, staff artist of Clarke's Horse Review, Chicago, is attending the Janesville race meeting in the interest of his paper. In addition to his work on the Review Mr. Dickey does the turf illustrating for the Chicago Tribune beside considerable work in the same line for the Inter Ocean. As a turf illustrator Mr. Dickey's work is second to none.

FIVE circus companies are now billing Wisconsin towns—the Forepaugh combination is in northern Wisconsin; then come the Sells Brothers, the Ringling Brothers, Lemen Brothers and Cook & Whitby combinations. This is the only state where times are not hard.

The races have brought many strangers to the city. Some of them will take home a souvenir to their wives or sisters or sweethearts. A. F. Hall & Co., "the reliable jewelers," opposite Myers' house have a long list of the right things at the right prices.

S. M. THOMAS, of McHenry county, Ill., is in the city visiting his son, Conductor L. M. Thomas, of the Northwestern railway. Mr. Thomas is upwards of eighty years of age, and is a daily visitor at the driving park, taking great pleasure in the races.

MRS. F. BROOKS, entertained a company of ladies at a 6 o'clock tea yesterday afternoon at her pleasant first ward home. The event was in honor of Mrs. Brooks' mother, Mrs. Honsain, of Winchester, Dakota. The occasion was much enjoyed.

FRED HESSNAUER who broke his leg not long ago, is to be given a benefit dance by Vorwitz Lodge, No. 129, A. O. U. W. Concordia hall is the place, June 28 the date and tickets will be fifty cents.

HOLMES, the tailor man, has another window; it is novel, unique, pretty and attractive; arranged by Milo Thayer, and represents the new line of fifty cent steamboats he received last evening very admirably.

THERE is economy in buying what will wear, and what will wear usually forces the buyer to come again. A pair of shoes bought from Brown Bros & Lincoln will be of service to you; a propeller of trade to us.

MR. and Mrs. F. H. O'Brien of Elkhorn, are in Janesville and are guests of Officer and Mrs. Ed. Smith. Mr. O'Brien is the proprietor of Elkhorn's best hotel and rarely misses a Janesville race meeting.

A GOOD time is promised at the Sunday school picnic of the Congregational church tomorrow. Pleasant grounds have been selected at the four mile bridge. Steamers leave at 2:30 p. m.

THREE hundred dollars to one dollar. That is the way one bet was made today and the one dollar party lost. He is not yet certain that the assertions made by the $300 man are correct.

A LECTURE to women drew an interested audience in All Souls church yesterday afternoon. It was by Mrs. Marion Hunt and bore upon physical welfare rather than political rights.

TOMORROW night at 11 o'clock the grand excursion over the C. & N. W. R'y. will leave for Columbia. You had better join it and get a lot and free ride. Columbia Improvement Co.

TOD CROOKS TOOK THE PACING PURSE.AFTER SIX HEATS THE MONEY WAS SPLIT.

Alice Director Got Second Honors, Vera Capelle Third and Meacham Fourth—Coupon Broke the Season's Record For Two-Year-Olds—Praise For McKinney.

A big crowd saw the races today and watched Tod Crook walk off with first money after the sixth heat. Much interest was manifested in the unfinished pacing race. When the horse stopped last night Tod Crook had two heats; Vera Capelle had one and G. W. G. had one but lost it by being distanced. Vera Capelle lost one heat by an unlucky break under the wire and won one rather handily and her stock was on the rise. The race lay between the two, they said, although the final heats of yesterday had found Alice Director in a better place each time.

The other two races were the 2:28 and 2:34 trotting classes. In the '28 class there were entered Dandy L, Norvin G, Minnie Monroe, Vanessa, Kolena, Luna, Harry Pennington, Robbin, Dalphie D, Blanton, King William and Phallam. Harry Pennington, who won the race for twenty five trotters at Freeport in 1913 was the favorite.

B. B. P. the Favorite 2:34 Horse.

Of the fifteen entries in the 2:34 race, B. B. P. had been pushed as the favorite, the other nominations being Myrtle N, Nestwood, Dolly H, Alice Berlew, Prime, Salica, Maud Wright, Gladys Sprague, Jennie Tombs, Ben Lambert, B. B. P., King Princeps, G. W. Howe, Phil O, and Massasoit.

Weather and track were perfect today and the attendance was good. The first race was the unfinished pace and Starter McCarthy called the flyers at 1:30. Vera Capelle had the pole, by virtue of winning the last heat, with Tod Crook in second place; Alice Director in third position; Meacham, fourth; Kansas Jack, fifth; Tempest, sixth, and Polly T, seventh.

The first heat in the 2:30 pace this afternoon resulted in a victory for Alice Director, McKinney sending her under the wire a half length ahead of Meacham in 2:19½. Vera Capelle started after the race from the wire, but at the quarter pole she broke and fell behind Tod Crook. It stood that way for a few feet and then Meacham forged to the front, lapped by Kansas Jack. Alice Director was getting a little better place at each stride and on the stretch she passed the second tier and lapped Meacham beating the gelding to the wire by a half a length, while the spectators yelled.

The second heat was won by Alice Director although the finish between her and Vera Capelle was so close that many thought it a dead heat. This finished the race the rule being that the money should be divided as per summary at the end of the sixth heat. By this rule Tod Crook got first money, Alice Director second, Vera Capelle third and Meacham third.

ESPERANZA'S RACE WAS A GOOD ONE

The Chicago Daily News Correspondent Writes of the Phallamont

A special correspondent's story from Janesville to the Chicago Daily News has this to say:

"For a good many years the Janesville June trotting meeting has been the best event of its kind in Wisconsin, and there will be no diminution of its glory as long as Henry D. McKinney is on earth.

"Mr. McKinney is known to trotting horsemen everywhere as a breeder, writer, trainer and driver and starting judge. He is way above the average in each of these points and today showed some of his versatility by driving to victory a trotter of his own breeding, and between the heats of that race he went into the judges' stand in his driver's uniform and started the horses in the other race of the day. When Mr. McKinney won the first heat of the 2:27 race today with the big bald-face mare, Esperanza, the people cheered. Everybody in Rock county knows McKinney and they like to see him win. There was more cheering when the second heat went to McKinney and Esperanza in 2:23 3-4 a big reduction of the mare's record, and when she came back the third mile in 2:25 1-4, winning the race, there was general congratulation. Esperanza is by McKinney's stallion, Phallamont, a son of Phal's, 2:13 3-4, and pretty near everybody in Rock county who fancies fine horses has a colt by him. His daughter Esperanza, acted today as if she would be the fastest of the family before long, never offering to make a skip in any of the three miles and seemingly having enough speed left to have shaded 2:20 pretty close had it been necessary. Mr. McKinney drove her with good judgment, and smiled all over after the race. His 60 years sit lightly on him and he is as lively as a cricket and as ready for argument as a sophomore.

COUPON BROKE A SEASON'S RECORD.

H. D. McKinney's Grand Two Year Old Sets the Pace For That Age.

Janesville people saw a season's record broken yesterday for the 2 year olds brought to the front the best trotter of the age that has appeared this year in Coupon, a bay colt owned and driven by Henry D. McKinney and that took a record of 2:34½ in the second heat. This is the best mile by a 2-year-old trotted for 1894, and the youngster is easily capable of much greater things. He is sired by Director Chief, dam by Phallamont. This was not the only good race. The 2:32 class winner was in doubt when the Gazette went to press last night and resulted as follows:

2:32 class, trotting; purse $500.

Sharon to Fontana Park.

Fayett Moon, proprietor of the White Front Livery, announces that he will run a new three-seat surrey or a two-seat carriage between Sharon and Fontana Park, Lake Geneva, connecting with all trains. He is prepared to handle passengers and baggage in good shape. Janesville people will find the trip of twelve miles from Sharon, very pleasant.

Ate Ice Cream Under the Trees.
Ice cream was served in the court house park by Good Templars last evening. The patronage was liberal, the tables which were scattered around under Japanese lanterns, being kept well filled. Music by a drum corps took the place of the Bower City band programme which had been expected.

MUNICIPAL COURT CLERK W. F. WILLIAMS is having his barn treated to new shingles. Carpenter William Ross and Fred Lee are the artists.

CRAWFORD IS HEIR
TO A VAST ESTATEPOET SCOUT GETS A SHARE
OF $20,000,000.

Wealth That Old "King" Wallace Accumulated by Judicious Investments in New York Land Said to Belong in Part to the Sweet Singer of the West.

Captain Jack Crawford, familiarly known as "the poet scout," will sail for Scotland about July 15 on a mission which may result in proving him to be one of the principal heirs to the great Wallace estate, now held by the State of New York and New York city, and estimated to be worth $20,000,000. The trip to Scotland is taken upon the advice of the New York lawyers who have been at work upon the case for some years and believe that Captain Jack will be able to obtain in Scotland the missing links of evidence necessary to perfect his own title and that of his immediate relatives on his mother's side of the lapsed estate.

If the poet scout succeeds in this mission he will add the last chapter to one of the most remarkable and interesting "legal romances" ever in chancery in the United States.

BUGGIES WRECKED ON RAVINE ST.

Mrs. J. L. Croft and Mrs. James Worthington Have a Narrow Escape.

There was an exciting scene and wreck of two buggies on Ravine street last evening. Mrs. James Worthington, two children, and Mrs. J. L. Croft and two sisters being occupants of the wrecked vehicles. Mrs. Worthington and children were out driving, when their horse became frightened at a passing street car on Washington street. The horse commenced kicking and running on Ravine near High, the vehicle colliding with Mrs. Croft's buggy, throwing all the ladies out. While both buggies sustained considerable damage, the ladies and children escaped with very light bruise.

LIBRARY GIVEN TO E. J. STEVENS

Handsome Gift Made to the Janesville Graduate in Beloit Today.

Ed. J. Stevens, of this city, received a handsome present during the commencement exercises in Beloit today. As detailed by dispatches on another page he was given the valuable law library of the late Paul Broder. The Misses Broder have always taken a deep interest in the life of the college students, and some time ago gave up their handsome home to one of the Greek letter fraternities.

COPPER CIRCUIT FOR JANESVILLE

Telephone Communication Will be Better in the Near Future

Janesville may have a metallic circuit telephone connection with Milwaukee before the summer ends. Gangs of linemen are at work around Waukesha pushing the line this way.

Fred Milligan of the Janesville telephone exchange, left for New London yesterday to take his position as superintendent of toll lines. Lee Pierson will take Milligan's place.

PEASE PRESIDENT OF THE LEAGUE

VERDICT OF YEARS ON JOAN OF ARC

THE HEROINE OF ORLEANS AND HER BIRTHPLACE.

A Visit to the Spot Made Sacred By
This Noble Daughter of France—How She Delivered Her Country to Die at the Stake.

JOAN OF ARC'S birthplace at Domremy-la-Pucelle, lies in the classic land of Lorraine, in the valley of the Meuse, and up against a low ridge covered partly with vineyards—partly with woods. At best it is but a poor cluster of mortar houses sheltering not quite 300 souls. As the railroad station is at Domremy-Maxey, some twenty minutes off, you have a walk across the meadows, fairly throbbing with the flutter and trills of the larks, before you enter the hamlet where the miraculous maid was born in 1411, and whence she went forth when she was 18 to exhort the king and save France.

The home of Joan of Arc is in reality an old-fashioned farm house, somewhat embellished in the style of the fifteenth century. It has the sloping, one-sided roof characteristic of French farm-houses. The old tiles, once red, are now a russet brown. The windows are framed in stone. The narrow doorway is carried up into a richly gothic point, which contains the fleur-de-lis of France and the coats of arms of the allied families of Thiesselin and d'Arc. Above is the strangely modern-sounding motto "Vive Labeur 1481," and below "Vive LeRoy Louis."

A niche over the doorway contains what deserves to be called a truly remarkable statue of Joan of Arc, the work of a sculptor of Lorraine, who had known her. The original marble statue is kept in the interior of the house, the copy on the outside being in bronze. She is kneeling, bare-headed, with hands folded, and clad in a complete suit of armor; greaves, breastplate, and all. A sword hangs by her side. Her hair falls down her back in long waves, and her woman's form shows plainly in the cut of her knightly accoutrements.

As a work of art this statue must be reckoned somewhat crude, if not badly proportioned. In fact, the front view is almost ludicrous. But the side view brings out the devout and spiritual element of the work. It reveals the essentially noble feeling which must have moved the unnamed artist, when he placed the steel-clad maid upon her knees. Joan's portrait was never painted; this statue must, therefore, be considered the nearest approach to a likeness now in existence. Whatever the limitations of his art, the sculptor knew how to express the contrast between her pure, womanly nature and her mannish attire, between her deeply religious temperament and her warlike career. In his treatment of the simple girl's features he showed himself an idealist, but in the details of pose and dress an uncompromising realist.

On the whole, Joan's statue at Domremy may serve to symbolize the modern woman in her best aspirations; neither effeminate nor masculine; doing what she finds to do, undeterred by outward conventional considerations; changing her very dress to suit her mission if need be; retaining her womanliness throughout her contact with the world of work.

The first room you enter is the kitchen, and general living room of the family. Here Joan probably spent many a winter evening, sewing by the firelight and listening to the tales of English invasion, brought by wandering pilgrims. It is, of course, very difficult to distinguish the original from the restored; but the guardian insists that an iron plaque at the back of the hearth, and a certain wooden beam projecting from the walls, date from Joan's day. At all events, the latter is carefully covered with wire grating, to preserve it from whittling tourists.

FROM THE PAINTING BY INGRES, IN THE LOUVRE.

Joan's bedroom comes next, bare and badly lighted by a tiny square window. Remnants of an old cupboard, as well as some slabs in the ceiling, are pointed out as originals.

A third room was used as a cellar, and a fourth by Joan's brothers, while a spacious garret took up all there was of the second story.

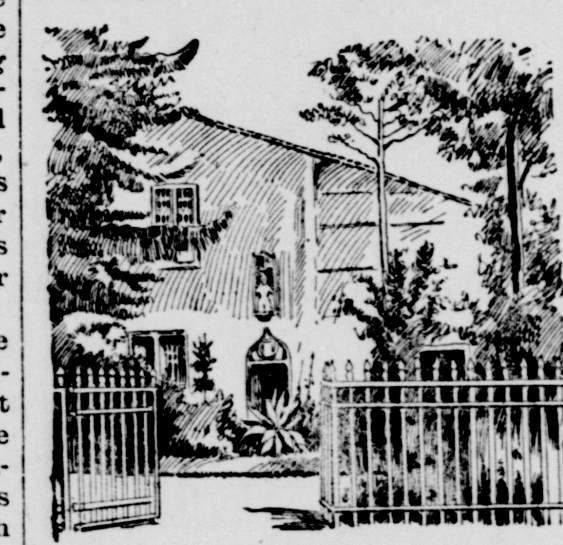

The general impression is that of a damp, dingy house, long uninhabited. But in reality Joan's father was a well-to-do yeoman; and a local magistrate. His house was doubtless one of the best in the village. There is a small garden with some pines, trailing vines and clematis on the walls.

A little house in the grounds has been fitted up as a museum, where pictures and banners of no particular value are exhibited. The truth is the city of Orleans has collected pretty much everything of interest connected with the Maid, and Rouen has stored its library with a vast literature relating to her. A visit to Domremy is, therefore, mainly interesting as giving us the environment in which the Maid fited herself for her heroic life and martyrdom.

Through her untiring efforts, Charles VII. was at length crowned king of the whole of France at Rheims. With that her work was done and the day of her sufferings had dawned. Intrigues were set on foot against her at the French court. The king she had crowned turned his back upon her. She was maligned, insulted, accused of practicing the black art. In 1430, a year after the siege of Orleans, the Burgundians captured her at Compiegne and delivered her over to the English, their allies. She was taken to Rouen, and ultimately condemned for sorcery, and burnt at the stake, after the horror of a mock trial—a young girl of 19. It is, perhaps, the most pitiable blot on the history of the English people—this insensate act of butchery.

Opposite the house, in a little grove of pines, a bust of Joan was unveiled with great pomp in 1820. Alas, it is a horrible travesty upon her simplicity. They have made of the high-minded peasant girl a court lady of the time of the Restoration, with bare shoulders and bosom, a diadem in her hair, and waving plumes. And the pity of it is, that this bust should have been so highly esteemed, that countless engravings were made of it, so that it may still be seen in many a cottage of Lorraine.

Joan worshipped oftenest in the parish church. The original structure was destroyed during her lifetime; the present one contains really nothing of interest, unless we can except the mediocre statue on the left of the church door, which represents her kneeling with arm and face upturned to heaven.

JOAN OF ARC'S HOME AT DOMREMY. The real holy of holies of any pilgrim to Domremy must be the Bois Chenu, the ancient wood where Joan had her visions.

The Bois Chenu is the place assigned by tradition to what must always remain one of the most inexplicable, psychic phenomena recorded in history. It will not satisfy the modern mind to say merely, as Michelet did: "A girl of 12 confounds the voice of her heart with the voice of heaven." It is too late in the day to beg the question in that manner. Joan's visions belong rather to that new world of spiritual perceptions, on the borderland of which scientific investigators have at last set foot. Perhaps, therefore, it is not altogether without significance, that one of the great schools of experimental hypnotism in the world, has been established so near Joan's home, in the city of Nancy. For six years, from the age of 12, when she first received these visitations, to 18, when she set out on her mission, the young girl kept this mystery to herself.

As far as the historical facts are concerned they are, of course, familiar, and may be rapidly sketched as follows:

From 1339 to 1453 France and England were engaged in a desultory conflict, known as the Hundred Years' war, of which Froissart made himself chronicler. It originated in the claim of Edward III. of England to the French crown through his mother, Isabelle, daughter of Philip IV. of France. The English were victorious, it will be remembered, in the great battles of Crecy, Poitiers and Azin-court, so that finally in 1422, the French king, Charles VII., was recognized south of the Loire only, and north of that Edward III. of England. This was the state of things when the English, in alliance with the duke of Burgundy, laid siege to the city of Orleans.

Joan's hour had come. The utter astonishment of her family, and against the express wish of her parents, she made her way into the presence of Charles VII., over roads infested with robbers and pillaging soldiers. She told him of her mission, to deliver France from the English, and begged to be allowed to prove her claim by going to the relief of Orleans. This marvel she accomplished in the days between April 29 and May 8, 1429, conducting operations in which she had never had the least experience, living in camps, unharmed amid a brutal soldiery, inspiring bravery, and banishing fear from her devoted followers.

At Castle Eden, England, last month, 520 miners were fined 5 shillings each for absenting themselves from the mines without giving notice. They left to attend the funeral of a workman who died from injuries received in the pit the previous day.

Bathing is often answerable for aural disease when ducking the head is practiced. The ear is intolerant of cold water, and, in addition to this, the stimulating properties of sea water render it irritating to the ear, and liable to set up inflammation.

BEST AND GIBB.

He—I love you. She—Well, what are you going to do about it? You've got no money.

Tagleigh—That girl in the play did the dude to perfection. Waggleigh—Who was the dude?

Uncle George—Are you good at guessing? Little Dick—Yes, indeed. I'm head in the spelling class.

"You were born in America?" Dennis—Yes, sir. "Parents foreigners?" Dennis—No, indeed! They're Irish.

He—One half the world doesn't know how the other half lives. She—No; but it would give a good deal to find out.

Mother—So you wish my daughter for your wife? He, gallantly—Partly that, madam, and partly that you may be my own mother-in-law.

"Sometimes," said Uncle Eben, "er man flattahs hisself dat he's feelin' sympathy wif de unfortunate, when he's jis drorin' comparisons, an' congratulatin' hisself."

Hardup—I wish this was the north pole, with nights six months long. Chaseup—Why? Hardup—So that I could tell my creditors to "call again to-morrow."

Witts—What makes you so sure old Skinfint has no skeleton in his family closet? Watts—Because if he had he'd sold it long ago. Skeletons are worth anywhere from $5 up.

"Is it proper to wear gloves when you attend a box party?" asked the young man who proposed to do society. "Certainly," replied his friend. "Six ounces is the proper weight."

Maude—Doesn't Ethel feel shocked at the news that the nobleman to whom she was engaged was a swindling adventurer? Jeannette—No; she says he was only a baronet, anyway.

Rinx—What are you writing now? Scrib—I am collaborating with my father on a book of poems. Rinx—I didn't know that your father wrote poems. Scrib—He doesn't; he's paying for their publication.

Mr. Shallo—What in thunder did you go and buy a couple of steamer trunks for? We're only going for a trip to the mountains. Mrs. Shallo—Well, won't the neighbors see them when the expressman takes them away?

Those Little Sieves. The kidneys, separate from the blood, as it passes through them, impurities for which the final medium of liberation from the system is the bladder. When their function is suspended, direful results ensue. Among these are: diabetes, Bright's disease, and malady which terminate in some one of these. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters stimulates the kidneys not as an immediate stimulant, but by gently impelling them to renewed action and perfecting their activity and vigor. Thus the blood is once more insured purification, and the organs themselves saved from destruction. Malaria, constipation, liver complaint, nervousness, dyspepsia and rheumatism are all thoroughly remedied by the Bitters, which is, moreover, a most thorough appetizer, general tonic and sleep promoter. Use it regularly, at semi-occasional intervals.

A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M, 24th N. Y. Cavalry and of the 10th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:

"Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies!"—Solomon Yewell, Madison, Ind., Dec. 3, 1892.

These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. They positively contain neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

TELLS.

We're on the Topmost Wave
OF COMMERCIAL SUCCESS WITH OUR
Death = Knell = Sale.

WE TELL

What better evidence could we have of the public implicitly believing our announcements than that our store is crowded daily. There must be big attractions for people. We've got would-be competitors on the run with their decoys, their fakes, which attract nothing but passing smiles from those who read their advertisements. No wonder other dealers' tempers are ruffled somewhat while we ride serenely on our successful tidal wave.

"Scrubbing-a-floor" and "moving-a-shelf" sales won't work here in Janesville. The people are onto such rackets, and are not to be caught by such palpably nonsensical and silly assertions. Values--genuine, honest, nineteenth century bargains--are what the people want. They find 'em here every time, and, enormous as our patronage is, Kimball, the old reliable is making new friends every hour, while retaining all the old ones with hands of forged steel.
